

Male dog garment for use as a diaper

Abstract

A reusable male dog garment together with a separately attached absorbent pad to serve as a male dog diaper for the collection of urine. The diaper wraps around the dog's body and secured with a Velcro attachment. A specially designed elastic pouch, where the absorbent pad is placed, along with a curved shape of the garment helps prevent twisting of the diaper around the body as well as lateral movement up the back. The absorbent pad may be replaced as necessary.